THIS WEEK'S HOT SUMMER SOUNDS CONCERT POSTPONED

(Temple, TX) – The first concert in the Scott & White Health Plan Hot Summer Sounds Free Concert series at Miller Park has been postponed due to rainfall and wet conditions in the park. The concert featuring the Sloppy Joe Band, originally scheduled for Friday, June 3rd, will be rescheduled for Friday, July 29th.

"We want everyone to have a great time in the park with their family and friends and unfortunately the weather hasn't cooperated with us this week," said Temple Parks & Recreation Special Events Coordinator, Holly Leiferman. "We already have a backup date on the calendars and hope you can join us later this summer. Next week's performance will go on as planned, weather permitting."

The next concert in the Scott & White Health Plan Hot Summer Sounds Free Concert Series will be Uptown Drive on Friday, June 10th. Should you have any questions regarding the postponement of this Friday's Hot Summer Sounds Free Concert, please contact Holly Leiferman at 254-298-5440 or visit templeparks.com.
